Sometimes the method of appointment of the presidential electors--each state as many as it has representatives in both houses of Congress--actually results in the election of the candidate who was not the people's choice. In 1888, for example, Cleveland received a plurality of 95,534 over Harrison, yet enough states with a smaller popular vote went Republican to elect Harrison by 233 electoral votes as against 168 for Cleveland. We have spoken of the Federal Government as a simple affair with few functions, but it is in reality only simple by comparison with the complexity of the functions of the state. The national government is a government of many and expensive activities which are nation-wide or international in scope. Even in time of peace it costs almost a billion a year. It employs some 350,000 employees of whom a few hundred...
