Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.7in.Ten Doubles is the story of a swinging money manager in the go-go years of the nineteen-sixties. Against the backdrop of civil unrest and social upheaval, we follow the career of Garvey Hatch. He is an aspiring gunslinger, who makes hair-trigger decisions to trade large blocks of stocks in order to out-perform competing mutual funds. Garvey leaves his mark on the ticker tape and the newly-liberated secretarial pool in almost equal measure. With long hair and sideburns, a wide-lapelled and bell-bottomed suit, he will not be mistaken for the so-called money managers in the trust departments. Garvey and his compatriots lived at the epicenter of the birth of modern-day Wall Street: Hedge funds, LBO pools, takeovers and derivatives all sprang from the sixties boom that spawned the gunslingers. Garveys personal and primary quest is to achieve ten doubles of his meager thousand dollar stake, thereby turning it into a life-altering million. Along the way, he must confront the reality that true love and family are the most important quests of all. After working and scheming his way through Harvard Business School, Garvey realizes that he is stuck in a bad job choice. He and Lil decide to take their two kids and leave their beloved Atlanta for a securities analyst job with a mutual fund in Kansas City. It is there that his formerly rudderless career takes shape. He vows to achieve a net worth of a million dollars through just ten successive investments that double in value. A lot of stocks had been doubling in a short period of time. A million dollars in the nineteen sixties was serious money. Once achieved, it could be put into...
